

The Department of Science and Technology (DOST) developed the DOST immersion freezer to meet greater demands in food preservation by the food industry. As the name suggests, the immersion freezer has its contents (usually food products) submerged in cold liquid that serves as freezing agent.

Click this link to read more about this article...